Hi Phillip,

However you read it, I'd suggest keeping a pen nearby and marking the questions that apply to your situation. The right move depends on your goals and timeline, not on the market headline of the week.

If a question comes up, just reply. I read every response.

Hi Phillip,

If the book left you with a question, just reply and tell me. What readers ask shapes what I write and teach next.

If a conversation would help, you can pick a time that suits you here:

Choose a time to talk

No obligation either way.
